Bees and beavers aren't the only busy critters in the animal kingdom. Journey through elephant trails and spider webs as we explore nature's best builders.	It's a dirty job, but these animals are up for it! Learn why vultures, opossums and lions are important for keeping our world clean and discover how we can help do the same.	Pollinating, fertilizing, and planting seeds are just a few of the things that animals do to keep the ecosystem growing. Discover how zebras, birds and insects all play important roles as nature's gardeners.	Beautiful colors, lovely songs and exciting dances are an important part of human culture but can be essential for animal survival. Join us as we learn how birds, reptiles and various animals use art to protect themselves and communicate with others.	Living like an animal sometimes looks easy, but even animals need help from their friends and families. Discover how chimps, cheetahs and even bees teach each other life skills, and maybe learn a thing or two yourself!
